Bio of professor Wang:

Professor Ling-chi Wang, born in Xiamen, Fujian, China, did graduate education in ancient semitic languages and literature at Princeton Seminary, University of Chicago, and University of California, Berkeley. He taught Asian American and ethnic studies at the University of California, Berkeley from 1969 until he retired on June 30, 2006. Since the end of the Cold War, he extended his research interests to Overseas Chinese studies and US-China relations. In 1992, with the help of scholars from throughout the world, he founded the International Society for the Study of Chinese Overseas (ISSCO) which is now a leading international scholarly organization for the advancement of Overseas Chinese studies.

Professor Wang was one of the co-founders of the "Rape of Nanking" Redress Coalition and organized and managed the international conference to mark the 50th anniversary of the signing of the San Francisco Peace Treaty back in September 2007 .
